TT CARDIFF RAISES INCREDIBLE AMOUNT FOR UKRAINE

SPRING 2022 – There were bake sales, raffles, walks and – for the unlucky few – waxing appointments. TT Cardiff had a goal to raise money to support Ukraine and that's what they did. After a few weeks of events and fundraising, a mind-boggling £10,392.06 (including the match from the Giving the TT Way programme) was raised by the Cardiff team.

"It's an incredible amount, and a testament to the team," said HR Manager Peter Scully. "I started at TT right when the campaign was beginning and seeing the incredible dedication of the team and the determination to raise as much money as possible was a wonderful introduction to TT Cardiff."

And who were the unlucky few that got waxing appointments? Production Planner Mathew Lewis and Vice President/General Manager Robert Relph got their legs waxed, Senior Test Tech Gareth Davies got his back waxed – but they took it in stride. "It's for a great cause, so a moment – or two – of pain was worth it. The team have done an outstanding job in finding creative ways to raise money for Ukraine," said Robert Relph. "Just don't expect me to get my legs waxed again soon!"

Even though Gareth Davies might not have found it very enjoyable, the waxing scheme raised £87.08.

Delicious, extravagant cakes and cookies tempted the team, and raised £481.00.
